Arne Nilsen – Design Director, Aurecon

Arne Nilsen is a leader of Aurecon's port and coastal engineering practice, with responsibility for technical leadership in these fields across the group. He is a leader in the industry, being involved on PIANC working groups and currently being part of the Australian Standards Marine Structures code committee.

Arne has been responsible for leading multi-disciplinary study and engineering teams from the development of port facilities including the major expansions of the Abbot Point, Dalrymple Bay and Hay Point Coal Terminals, to commuter ferry terminals in Brisbane and Sydney.

Lydia Gentle OAM – Portfolio Delivery Manager, BHP Mitsubishi Alliance (BMA)

Lydia is a Fellow and Chartered Civil and Structural engineer with over 15 years' experience in the engineering, mining and construction industries. Lydia is the youngest Australian to receive Engineering Executive status with Engineers Australia, highlighting her strategic and leadership skills and contribution to the engineering profession.

Lydia has been recognised for her service to engineering after being awarded a Medal of the Order and was nominated for her passion and drive to promote the work of engineers around the world, and her efforts towards encouraging the next generation to take up STEM careers.
